RAILWAY HORROR

Further Particulars of the Accident Near Chatsworth.

SCENES AT THE WRECK.

ONE HUNDRED AND FOURTEEN LIVES REPORTED LOST.

The Lits' of Dead Hourly Growing From Among the Wounded—Thrilling Tales Related by Survivors—Identifying the Dead—The Dead and Wounded.

CHATSORTH, Ill., Aug. 13.—The awful disaster three miles east of here, Wednesday midnight, grows in horror as fresher and fuller details arrive. It was the most horrible and destructive to life of any railroad accident which has ever happened in this country. The train, when it reached Chatsworth, consisted of eleven passenger coaches, six sleeping cars, three chair cars, one baggage car, one pay car, and two engines, both in front. On board are known to have been 900 passengers, all excursionists to Niagara Falls.

Three miles east of Chatsworth is a little slough, and there the railroad track crosses a dry run about ten feet deep and fifteen wide. Over this was stretched an ordinary wooden trestle bridge, and as the excursion train came thundering down on it, what was the horror of the engineer on the front engine when he saw that this bridge was a fraud. The first engine of the train passed over, and the bridge fell immediately afterward. Such was the terrific momentum of the train that car after car crashed into that hole of death ten feet deep and less than a score of feet wide, until ten cars with their precious human freight lay piled in the ditch and the rest of the train was heaped on top till the wreck was a mountain thirty feet high. Fire from the burning bridge quickly communicated to the shattered coaches, but fortunately it was soon extinguished, hundreds of willing hands throwing water and dirt onto the flames, doubtless burying a number of the dead and injured.

The awful nature of the wreck may be guessed from the fact that between the still uninjured sleeper and the wreck of the engine but two car-lengths intervened, and in this space were crushed and mangled and ground up all the passenger cars of the train. Inside these cars was not room, apparently, for a rabbit to have escaped alive, so crushed and driven were they with fragments of wreck. Many of the dead were so crushed that the sex was indistinguishable, even the clothes being ground into unrecognizable bunches of rags saturated with blood.

A second silence followed the crash, and then the air was filled with shrieks of the wounded. The groans of men, the screams of women united to make an appalling sound, and above all could be heard the agonizing cries of little children, as in some instances they lay pinned alongside of their dead parents.

Hymns in human form went into the cars where the fire was burning fiercely underneath, and when the poor wretches who were pinned there begged them "For God's sake to help them out," stripped of their watches and jewelry, and searched their pockets for money. When the dead bodies were laid out in the cornfield these funds turned them over in their search for valuables. This morning out in the cornfield, sixteen purses, all empty, were found in one heap. Had the plunderers been caught they would surely have been lynched.

A horrible suspicion is growing hourly that the accident was a deliberately planned case of train wrecking; that the bridge was set on fire by miscreants, who hoped to seize the opportunity offered, and the fact that the bridge was so far consumed at the time the train came along, and the added fact that the train was an hour, and a half late, are pointed out as evidence of a careful conspiracy.

But very few of the people in Chatsworth closed their eyes in sleep last night, and lights which shown through the windows of nearly every house in the place, told their own story of the faithful ministrations of the villagers to the injured and dying. Scores of residents and strangers stood all night at the street corners and on the depot platform, and talked over the events of the past twenty-four hours with lated breath. At the depot a couple of men were busy inclosing the remains of the recognized dead in rule pine boxes, and the noise of the hammers beat upon the ears and mingled with the groans of the wounded who were being cared for in the little town hall only a few feet away across the track.

Here the scene was such as to melt the stoutest heart. On nearly two scores of mattresses, some resting on chairs, and others on the floor, were men, women and children in various degrees of suffering and torture. On one cot, side by side, with their arms resting across each other, were Robert Zimmerman and his wife, of Peoria. The sufferings of both were excruciating, and Mr. Zimmerman's faithful brother, who had hurried to the scene to do the best he could to relieve their agony, was forced every few moments to seek the open air to relieve his own pent-up emotion. Near by was little five-year-old, flaxen haired, doll-faced Josie Blanding, of Harker's Corners, near Peoria, who was brought here in a carriage by her father from Piper City, at 4 o'clock this morning. She was suffering from internal injuries, as well as contusions of the lower limbs, but never a whimper came from her lips, and she smiled sweetly as the nurse whispered to her words of encouragement.

Upon the platform where the local Solons are wont to hold forth, pretty little Valdejo, of Peoria, lay in what Dr. Ballard, who bent over her for hours, thought was her last agonies. She was perfectly conscious, and between her gasps for breath told how she had traveled all over Europe in safety, only to come face to face with death, a few miles from her own home. Her mother lay dead across the street, but despite her earnest pleadings for news no one had the heart to tell her the dreadful truth.

Dozens of persons who survive the wreck tell graphic stories. Every one corroborates the statement that the bridge was a fraud when the train struck, and everyone speaks of the robbery of the dead and dying by a horde of thieves.

In the second coach was an unknown man, his wife and child. The entire family were pinned down by woodwork. When relief came the man feebly said: "Take out my wife first; I'm afraid the child is dead." So they carried out the mother, and as a broken seat was taken off her crushed breast, the blood which welled from her lips told how badly she was hurt. They carried the child, a fair-haired, blue-eyed girl of three, and laid her in the cornfield, dead, alongside of her dying mother. They went back for the father. Both his legs were broken, but he crawled through the corn to the side of his wife and feeling her loved features in the darkness, pressed some brandy to her lips and asked her how she felt. A feeble groan was the only answer, and the next instant she died. The man felt the dead forms of his wife and child, and cried out: "My God! there is nothing more for me to live for now," and, taking a pistol out of his pocket, pulled the trigger. The bullet went through his brain, and the three dead bodies of that little family are now lying side by side in Chatsworth waiting to be identified.

Josie Blandin was en route to Canada to visit her mother, taking her two little girls with her. She had just gone to the rear car to get them a drink of water when the crash came. She has not seen her children since, and is nearly wild with anxiety about them, notwithstanding her own terrible injuries and the intense pain she suffers. She was taken out of the wreck crushed almost shapeless. Josie was found wedged in between the timbers. The other child escaped without even a bruise.

The United Press correspondent went from Forest to Chatsworth at 3 o'clock this morning on a special train of a caboose and freight cars with coffins. H. A. McClure, of Keithsburg, was one of the passengers. His wife and child had parted with him twenty-four hours before and were going to New York. He reached Chatsworth to find the couple stretched upon the floor of the school house. Kind hands here had placed the year-old baby boy in its mother's arms. Their faces had escaped injury and looked placid, as though asleep. Near by was the crushed satchel containing the baby's wardrobe and toilet articles. The father slipped the powder box and baby puff before the covering had been removed from their dead faces and with a groan he sank on his knees, and throwing himself prostrate on the bodies cried aloud.

Closely wrapped in a white sheet, is another body, not yet identified. Half a score of bodies of full-grown men and women lay around on the pine floor. The school house is turned into a morgue, and affords a temporary abiding place for another score, while down at the depot the correspondents have to pick their way through a double row of bodies to the telegraph office. In the baggage room the floor is piled high with satchels, hand-bags, hats, bonnets, feathers, shoes and innumerable other articles of attire which have been brought up from the wreck. Among these are grouped the relatives of the dead, seeking such personal effects as may have been saved, and which may help the coroner to make final identification in some cases.

There are loud complaints regarding robberies of the bodies, but ghoulism appears to have been the work of a gang of pickpockets, who were on the train for the plunder. The residents of Chatsworth are certainly not guilty of it. They, especially, the women, have acted nobly. Dr. Chinn, of Chenequa, surgeon of this division of the Peoria & Western, and Dr. Ballard, of the same place, who were the first doctors on the scene, have not since closed their eyes. They say that they expect to be able to move all patients in the town hall to Peoria, except Miss Valdejo and Mrs. Clark, of Ohio, who will probably die in the next twenty-four hours. One of the bodies in depot was recognized this morning as John Zelker, of Pekin.

A messenger from Pipers at 6:30 this morning reports thirty-four deaths last night. The names are not given. A wrecking train with four crews just left here for the scene of the accident. It is believed that there are several more bodies in the debris. T. M. Kelly, of Breeds, Ill., and William Lee, of Easton, arrived here this morning, having walked in from Forest, six miles. The former was looking for his father, Joseph Kelly, and his uncle, John. He found the latter in the hospital. The father's body is not yet identified. Lee also failed to find his brother, Charles C., who took the train from Peoria. It is believed both are in the wreck.

The injured are so scattered around, in a house here and there and at Pipers, that it is difficult to obtain reliable figures, but most reliable authority put the number at one hundred. Of the dead at Pipers is P. Van Lee, a member of the firm of Van Lee & Morris, of Peoria, who was terribly crushed, and died in his wife's arms, a few minutes after her arrival. There are two others dead; also an unknown woman at the depot here; four men, one young girl, and one boy, supposed to be a bootblack who frequents "Soup alley," Peoria.

A man from Pekin, name unknown, is missing and it is feared he is buried under the wreck.

The wounded here are all doing as well as could be expected and none of them have died.

Another Wreck.

AURORA, Ill., Aug. 13.—Particulars have been received here of a smash-up on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad at Montgomery, three miles west of here, resulting in the serious injury of several people and the wrecking of rolling stock. The Fox River west bound freight train stopped to do some switching at 1 o'clock this morning, and left several cars standing on the main track. These were run into by engine No. 26, bound east with freight cars. "Billy" Breed, of Aurora, was badly crushed; a young man named Watkins was seriously injured; three men asleep in the way car were hurt, and a man stealing a ride in a box car had his hips crushed. The injured men were brought here, and are now in the hospital. Engine 26 was wrecked, but the engineer and fireman escaped by jumping.

IVES' FINANCIAL STATUS.

What is Due to Individuals and What to Corporations.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—When the announcement of the assignment of Ives & Co. was made on the New York stock exchange, it was received with cheers by the brokers. As nearly as can be estimated, Ives' liabilities are, to individuals, about $5,000,000, and to corporations whose securities he has used, about $12,000,000, making a total of $17,000,000. The $12,000,000 to corporations is subject to reduction. The C. & H. & D. will recover the $3,500,000 of preferred stock in its treasury.

The following are individual debts: To Fellowes, Morgan & Co., $2,000,000; L. B. Harrison, of the First National bank, Cincinnati, $750,000; Russell Sage, $355,000; Kessler & Co., $300,000; J. A. Evans & Co., of Boston, $287,000; American Exchange National bank, $140,000; Sully, Maxwell & Co., balance on purchase of Dayton & Iron-ton road, $600,000; Alfred Sully, $85,000 advance; W. H. Starbuck, balance on yacht, $50,000; Bank of State of New York, $50,000; total, $4,722,000, which with counsel fees, commission, etc., will make the amount fully $5,000,000. It will be noticed that, with the exception of some comparatively small items, C. & H. & D. securities were given as collateral for these loans.

Hence, if these may be considered individual contracts, Ives & Co.'s standing depends upon the market value of those securities. The indebtedness to corporations arises from the use of the several railroad securities to purchase other roads, so that it is all in the same pot. The question will doubtless arise whether Ives acted in his individual capacity or as an official of the C. & H. & D.

The Southern Flood.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 13.—The river only reached thirty-three feet ten and one-half inches this time, and that was at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning, but on account of the blow-out of the canal gate fully two-thirds of the city was inundated. A small brick residence on Taylor street, opposite the gas works, was undermined and fell just after occupants had escaped. The streets are again in frightful condition and it will take an immense amount of money to repair them. All factories had to shut down and will hardly be able to start work before Monday. Thus both companies and operatives will be heavy losers by the floods. Three floods in thirteen days are about as much as Augusta can stand.

Ex-Premier Gibson Short in His Accounts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—P. C. Jones, a prominent merchant of Honolulu, who arrived on the Australia Wednesday, says that since ex-Premier Gibson left the islands a shortage of about $3,000 has been found in his accounts. This shortage was in the Chinese immigration tax accounts, in which there was good chance for defalcation. The Hawaiian Gazette declares that Queen Kapiolani's trip was a useless expense, and that there are reports that she borrowed $5,000 to pay for her return trip.

Result of a Scuffle.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 13.—Nicholas A. Jones, senior member of the firm of Jones & Mason, founders and machinists, died to-day at his home in Armourdale. An hour afterwards Louis Sinclair, superintendent of the works, was arrested as his murderer. The two men had had a scuffle at the office a few days ago, and Jones was taken home suffering acute pain, said to be caused by a kick in the abdomen by Sinclair. Jones came here four years ago from Buffalo, N. Y.

Fatal Mine Accident.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 13.—The third fatal mine accident in the Upper Peninsula by the overturning of a skip occurred at the Cleveland mine this morning. Seven Finland miners boarded the skip to descend the shaft. The skip turned over, throwing all to the bottom. Three were killed outright, three sustained probably fatal injuries and one escaped. The victim's names are not given. Most of them leave families in poor circumstances.

A $7,000 Fire Near Massillon, O.

MASSILLON, O., Aug. 13.—Fire of incendiary origin this morning burned the store, building and contents and residence of Robert Pollock, the residences of William Brenner and Thomas Burke and the store and residence of Isaac Sandwith at North Lawrence, a mining village seven miles west of here. Sandwith's stock was saved. Loss, $7,000; insurance, $3,000.

Cyclone in Pennsylvania.

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 13.—A cyclone last night did great damage to property in Warwick township, this county. The roof of the Warwick house was blown off, and the building was almost completely wrecked. Many barns were unroofed, and a number of residences were damaged and trees uprooted. No loss of life has been reported.

Killed by a Bursting Tank.

MARQUETTE, Aug. 13.—At noon yesterday a terrible disaster occurred on the new extension of the Northwestern railroad near Norway, Mich. A crew of men after flushing a water tank filled it with water to test it. While the men were sitting around eating dinner, the tank suddenly burst, killing six men and badly injuring six others.

Ann Eliza Young Fasting.

MARISTE, Mich., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Ann Eliza Denn, formerly well known as Ann Eliza Young, the nineteenth wife of the late Brigham Young, the head of the Mormon church, now lives at Maristee, and is sick with dyspepsia. By advice of a physician she entered upon a prolonged fast, which has now continued nineteen days.

Butler and Warren Pioneers.

MONROE, O., Aug. 13.—The annual reunion of the Butler and Warren county pioneers was held in their grove, near Monroe, on Thursday. There was a large crowd in attendance, the Miami valley being well represented. Hon. Ben. Butterworth and Judges Oliver and O'Neal were the orators.

Sixty-Three More.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Sixty-three delegates reached this city to-day, to swell the number of distinguished persons present at the session of the Association for the Advancement of Science. The morning session consisted of reading papers on different topics.

An Odious Comparison.

The proverb that "a drowning man clutches at a straw" was never better illustrated than in the attitude of the Republican press in discussing the Kentucky elections. The Democratic majority has fallen some 14,000 below that cast for President Cleveland, and these papers are at once cudgeling their brains to figure out how long it will require for the State to give a Republican majority at the same ratio of loss.

In 1886 President Cleveland's majority in Kentucky was 34,000. This year the majority for General Buckner, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is about 20,000. The loss is in the total vote. This is what is known as an off year in Kentucky and the vote was not brought out fully. But there is very little difference in the proportion of losses between the parties. Of course, in an off year the light vote shows stronger against the majority party.

But the difference between General Buckner's majority this year and President Cleveland's majority in 1884 is not as great as that between Mr. Blaine's majority in Pennsylvania in 1884 and General Beaver's last year. Yet the Democratic papers didn't claim that diminution in majority as a Democratic victory. Nevertheless it was just as much a Democratic victory as the election in Kentucky was a Republican triumph this year.—Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot.

The amount of money required to run the city of Covington during July is reported at $14,782.57.

An exchange remarks that "Prohibition is a tender young thing and oughtn't to have tackled Texas."

The remains of John Bradford, the pioneer editor of the West, are buried in the old Baptist churchyard at Lexington.

The railroad wreck at Chatsworth, Ill., was more disastrous to life than at first reported. Death reaped a fearful harvest.

The fire record for July was something unusual. Over $14,000,000 worth of improved property was burned up in the United States and Canada during the month.

SENATOR THURMAN says Cleveland will make the strongest candidate the Democrats can find. Furthermore he believes Cleveland will be renominated and re-elected.

The craze has struck Lexington and the President will be invited to stop off on his trip West and take a look at the fair women and fast horses of the metropolis of Central Kentucky.

Dorsey has had himself interviewed, and says he believes Blaine is still the strongest man the Republicans can nominate next year. It would be rather strange if Dorsey didn't think that way.

It is reported that Zachary Taylor Young is preparing for war. If he intends to do any fighting at Morehead he ought to commence now and give the State troops a chance to burn some powder.

The first annual reunion of Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge's Confederate regiment was held at Cynthiana this week. About seventy-five were present, and the day was spent in feasting and rehearsing old times.

A CHANCERY term of the Fleming Circuit Court will convene next Monday. As Judge Cole is still at Morehead a special judge will have to be chosen, and there will be two circuit courts running in this district at one time.

The floods are destroying the rice fields of South Carolina and Georgia, and the drouth has burned up the crops of the Northwest. This need cause no uneasiness. There will be plenty left for all. This is, indeed, a great country.

The fact that Chicago gathered in $2,000,000 from her saloons the past year is used as an argument in favor of the liquor traffic. It would be interesting to know what she expended in the punishment of crime directly traceable to the use of liquor.

"Let us take the tax off of whisky," say the Republicans, "and maintain a war tariff of over 40 per cent. on some four thousand articles of import." And yet in their National platform of 1868 they declared that it was "due to labor" that taxes should be reduced. Is it that "labor" deserves free whisky, while paying, in consequence of the war tariff, two prices for the necessities of life?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

RUGGLES' CAMP.

The Cottages Crowded With People, and the Meeting Proving a Grand Success.

ABLE MINISTERS FOR SUNDAY.

Editor Bulletin: Ruggles' Camp Meeting is proving a grand success. There are three hundred and nineteen persons in the cottages, many more than ever before.

Able ministers have been secured for Sunday, the closing day. A dozen or so preachers are now on the grounds and more are coming. John I. Mathews, with his diamond cornet, will assist Rev. O. H. Williamson Sunday in the music, and we look for one of the best meetings that day ever held on the grounds.

Thursday morning the prayer meeting at 6 o'clock was a good meeting. The 9 o'clock service was very impressive. The speaking was rapid. Every one present seemed to want to give his or her testimony for Jesus. Many of the testimonies were soul-stirring.

The prayer meeting Friday morning at 6 o'clock was led by M. Wallingford. At 9 o'clock the experience meeting was conducted by Rev. C. B. Pierrell. Rev. H. D. Rice, of the Cincinnati Conference, preached at 10:30 a. m. from 1 Thes. 5th 16th verse—"Quench not the spirit." The Tabernacle was well filled—all our services are well attended.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. W. J. Bradford preached from the text—"Keep thy heart with diligence." It was a good sermon, and all who heard it were delighted.

We are looking for the Maysville people Sunday. J. W.

"The leprous distillment, whose effect holds such an abiding hold of man, that, swift as quicksilver, it courses through the natural gates and alleys of the body, and causes the skin to become 'barked about, most lacerated, with vile and loathsome crust.' Such are the effects of diseased and morbid bile, the only antidote for which is to cleanse and regulate the liver—an office admirably performed by Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

An End to Bone Scrapping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. C. Peor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

McGarigle to Be Indicted in Canada.

New York, Aug. 13.—A special to the Tribune from Montreal says: The Chicago bootler, McGarigle, will be indicted here before a grand jury on a charge of conspiracy, and a bench warrant will be issued for his arrest. It is hoped soon to have a territorial magistrate living in Ottawa, who will be beyond the influence of provincial prejudices, and who will not refuse to endorse a warrant when the law authorizes him to do so.

A Midnight Struggle With Burglars.—WEST JEFFERSON, O., Aug. 13.—Early Thursday morning two men called at the home of William Minser, a baker and confectioner who lives adjoining his place of business, for the ostensible purpose of buying something to eat. Minser arose and dressed and let the strangers in. They at once assaulted him with a sabdug, but he made a plucky fight. He finally secured his pocketknife, which had dropped on the floor during the struggle, and began a wholesale slashing. After a desperate fight of half an hour, however, he was overcome and tied to a stair railing, where he was discovered at 5 o'clock. Minser was living alone, his family being absent on a visit. The burglars only secured $30 booty. The room presented the appearance of a slaughter house. Although suffering from a badly battered up head and body, Minser will recover.

Opposition to the Western Union.

New York, Aug. 13.—The union of the Baltimore and Ohio, the postal, the Bankers and Merchants' and the cables which assumedly included the united Telegraph lines, have all been consolidated into a vast system in opposition to the Western Union. The men in the new company are John R. Walsh, a Chicago banker; D. O. Mills and Whitelaw Reid, of New York; Robert Garrett, of Baltimore; John W. Mackay, of Nevada; and George W. Childs, of Philadelphia. The United Press Association will now have increased advantages.

Wants Damages.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 13.—Ex-Mayor Wheaton, of Detroit, has begun three actions for damages for $20,000 against H. O. Allen, Andrew Williams and W. N. Winfield, his alleged assailants, last Sunday night, when he was whipped on the charge of having insulted Mrs. Allen. He also threatens to begin like suits against The Detroit Free Press and Journal, for having in their reports of the affair fallen into misstatements regarding what Mr. Wheaton said when his assailants stood over him.

The Original "Pit" Buried.

New York, Aug. 13.—James C. Goldsmith, the original "Pit" (personal intelligence) man of the New York Herald, was buried from St. Paul's church to-day. The church was filled with newspaper men of this city and others. Henry Watterson and John Russell Young were among the pall bearers. The Herald's staff a large wreath of white roses, bearing the words, "Dear Old Goldy." The interment was in Peter-son, N. J.

Fell From a Window and Killed.

BATAVIA, O., Aug. 13.—Thomas Townsend, a colored laborer and local favorite here, fell from a second-story window at the county infirmary last night and was killed.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Captain J. C. Power has returned from a brief sojourn at Escalapa Springs.

S. M. Hudson returned Thursday from a two weeks' visit among friends at Pomeroy, O.

The mill here is taking in a tremendous lot of wheat, and paying the highest cash price.

H. S. True left Friday for his Dover home, but will be on hand with Hauke's band at the fair next week.

This expansion of weather is beginning to make things look somewhat dry in this neck of woods, and is causing a great deal of sickness, especially among the little folks.

Walter Sibbald, known and liked by everybody as "Doc," is visiting his parents here for the first time in three or four years. "Doc" is a resident of the Sunny South, Arkansas City.

Milburn Ellis is laid up with a slight indisposition, caused by the extreme heat and too close application to work. It is the hope of "Migs" many friends that it will be of slight duration, however.

Simmons' medicated well contributed its quota of solid comfort and health giving draughts to the folks attending the Christian Church convention at Maysville this week. There were crowds over every evening.

The best pension agent in this part of the country is undoubtedly the Hon. Jesse Ellis. He demonstrates the fact every day. In the last week he has obtained an increase for L. D. Poor from $4 to $10 per month, one for W. N. Campbell to $8 per month. Any one having such claims will do better by engaging his services than anybody else's. In fact, any kind of legal business entrusted to his care is sure to be done in first-class order, as a trial will convince.

The June-bug disappears in June, The lightest g-bug in May, The best-bugger is his honest self, And says, "I've come to stay."

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free trial bottles of this standard remedy at the drug stores of J. C. Peor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., Aberdeen Ohio.

GREAT excitement prevails in the vicinity of Four Mile, back of Newport, over the alleged discovery of a big petroleum flow on the farm of Rudolph Kruger, on Four Mile Creek, about a mile west of Ohio River. Send in the Trade Dollar. While most of the old trade dollars have been sent in to the Government depositories for redemption, there may be some who have neglected it because of the long period named by the redemption law for the exchange.

THE six months within which the trade dollar can be exchanged for standard silver dollars will expire on the 3rd of September, and all not presented on or before that date will be valueless beyond their bullion value. The banks throughout the country generally offer facilities for the redemption of the trade dollars, and all who have thus far neglected to make the change should take note of the fact that the time for redemption will expire on the 3rd of September.

A Vote of Thanks. At a regular meeting of Joseph Heiser Post, G. A. R., the following vote of thanks was unanimously adopted, and ordered printed in the Maysville daily papers:

This Post wishes to express its grateful appreciation to each and every citizen of Maysville and Mason County who contributed by donation or labor to make the occasion of unveiling the soldiers' monument a success upon the 4th day of July, A. D., 1887.

And to the noble women who toiled so faithfully day and night to assist in the grandest undertaking we ever will be called upon to attempt as a G. A. R. Post, we say thanks. "It was well done."

To Colonel John Mason Brown, who at his own expense left home and business and gallantly delivered the oration which crowned our tribute to deceased comrades with hallowed remembrance, we feel greatly indebted, and he shall ever have the warmest welcome of this Post.

We also thank General S. B. Buckner, who laid aside sectional prejudice and party spirit, and put in his appearance to assist in honoring a fallen, yet victorious, foe.

One lives at home
A sense of loss that meets
Us at the gate.
Within a place unfilled
And desolate.
And far far away
Our coming to await,

BULGARIA'S NEW RULER.

PRINCE FERDINAND ABANDONS HIS JOURNEY TO SOFIA.

The Sultan's Intimation That Bulgaria Would Be Occupied by Turkish Troops If He Abandoned the Throne Suddenly Changes His Mind—Foreign News.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The report from Rustchuk that Prince Ferdinand has abandoned his journey to Sofia, owing to the Sultan's intimation that Bulgaria will be occupied by Turkish troops, if the prince persists in his attempt to perform the functions of Prince of Bulgaria, has created some surprise here, not that Ferdinand should have weakened at the last moment, for nobody gives him credit for having much courage, but that the Sultan should so suddenly have changed his mind.

It is an open secret that Ferdinand was given to understand that Austria would back him up in his undertaking and it was upon condition of receiving this support, together with the countenance of England, Germany and Italy that he started for Timova. Simultaneously with his departure for Bulgaria it was semi-officially given out in Constantinople that the Sultan had requested the powers to keep their hands off Bulgaria until he should recognize Ferdinand's claim, and this intimation was construed to mean that Turkey would offer no serious objection to his assuming the throne of Bulgaria, but would wash her hands of the entire matter and let Russia and France dispose of Ferdinand's case in their own way.

The report of the Sultan's emphatic protest against Ferdinand's enthronement, then incites the belief that the czar, if the report be true, has begun the work of disposing of the affair in his own way and has chosen to employ the Sultan as the instrument of its accomplishment. It was a foregone conclusion, of course, that the czar would drive Prince Ferdinand out of Bulgaria if he went there, but nobody expected that Russia would act at the outset with such promptness as to keep him from going to Sofia, and if the Sultan's threat to occupy Bulgaria in event of the Czar's prince's assuming the reins of government was instigated by Russia—and of this there seems to be no doubt—it is to be inferred that the princeling's chances of ruling "my people" have entirely disappeared.

It is strange, however, that Ferdinand should have been so easily frightened by the Sultan's threat if he was really in possession of assurance from the Emperor of Austria that he would receive the physical support of the Austrian government and his prompt abandonment of this journey induces the conviction that Austria has not thus far committed herself. Moral support is one thing, and physical aid is entirely another. The former is very well in its way, but it counts for nothing against a power resolved to bring the latter influence in requisition in the advancement of its plans and Ferdinand, though once too bright, still has brains enough to recognize this patent fact. It looks now as though the only way that Francis Joseph can get Ferdinand to Sofia is to surround him with Austrian bayonets, but it is matter of grave doubt whether Austria would care to engage in the undertaking or that the prince would care to form the central figure in the lively scene that would ensue.

Still a Question.
LONDON, Aug. 13.—Whether the Irish National League will be proclaimed or not still remains a matter of doubt. The cabinet has just retired from a lengthy discussion of the matter, and the question is left at present undecided. The cabinet has adjourned to meet early next week. Meanwhile Lord Ashbourne, lord chancellor of Ireland, will remain in London in order to be present at the meeting.

Blaine's Hurry.
DUBLIN, Aug. 13.—The trades unions, the Protestant Home Rule society and other bodies were arranging demonstrations in honor of Mr. Blaine, and it is believed that these preparations induced him to hasten his departure. Lord Mayor Sullivan believes that Mr. Blaine will consent to attend a banquet in his honor on his way home.

Henry Ward Beecher's Successor.
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: An Indianapolis gentleman who reached the city last night, says it is not improbable that the Rev. Myron W. Reed, of Denver, Col., may be selected by the congregation of Plymouth church to succeed the late Henry Ward Beecher. Mr. Reed originally preached in Indianapolis in the church where Mr. Beecher held his first pastorate. He is a man about fifty years of age and quite as liberal in his views as the late pastor of Plymouth church. He was nominated for congress by the Colorado Democrats last year and owing to his personal popularity, nearly succeeded in winning a victory, notwithstanding the state is Republican by a safe majority.

Drawing the Color Line.
CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—At the evening session yesterday of the convention of the Ancient Order of Foresters, it was announced that the high court in session at Glasgow, Scotland, had decided to reverse a previous order and re-enforce the law allowing males of all colors to become members. This announcement was defiantly received, and the matter was, after much discussion, referred to a committee of five which will report some time to-day. Should the high court insist upon this ruling it is believed a split in the order will result.

Every Weapon in Storehouse Confiscated.
MOREHEAD, Ky., Aug. 13.—Everything is quiet this morning. The soldiers not only took the guns and pistols from every man they could find with arms yesterday afternoon, but searched every house and took therefrom all pistols, guns and other weapons. It is believed all the captured arms will be turned over to the state. There is no trouble apprehended now, the disturbing element being without weapons.
